

Columbia University Medical Center

Environmental Health
& Safety
(212) 305-6780

CUMC
Workforce Health & Safety
(212) 305-7580

NYPH
Hospital ER
(212) 305-6204

*****

For CUMC faculty & staff If you are at work and develop a medical emergency and need medical attention...

⇒ If someone is having a cardiac arrest or other emergency, call 911 and Public Safety at (212) 305-7979, and give the location. If a cardiac arrest occurs in a building contiguous with the Hospital, the cardiac arrest team can be paged via (212) 305-9999.

If you are at work and become ill and need medical attention...

⇒ Use may use one of the following options:

- The CUMC Workforce Health & Safety (WHS) Service located on Harkness Pavilion 1 South, Monday-Friday 8:30 AM-4:00 PM. You must bring your CUMC photo-identification card
- The New York Presbyterian Hospital Emergency Room located on 168th Street, 1st Floor Vanderbilt Clinic (if it is a medical emergency or when OHS is closed).
- Call your personal physician (unless it is life threatening).

⇒ If you are at home, are too sick to come to work and need medical attention, you should see your personal physician. In an emergency, call 911.

Other services offered by CUMC Workforce Health & Safety:

- Pre-placement medical surveillance evaluations
- Medical surveillance for personnel who work with chemicals such as formaldehyde; or who work with laboratory animals
- Vaccinations to prevent work-related disease such as Hepatitis B virus, Influenza, measles, polio, rabies, rubella, diphtheria & tetanus, and varicella
- Management of work-related illness and injuries
- Evaluation and management of chemical, biological and bloodborne exposures.
- Medical clearance to wear a respirator
- Audiometry, spirometry and vision screenings
- Fitness for duty evaluations
- Screening for exposure to Tuberculosis